

2007-2008 Scholarship Application

Deadline March 17, 2008

PCI Health Training Center offers scholarships to high school seniors graduating in 2008.

This year each high school in our service area has three (3) partial scholarships available to its graduating seniors. In addition, there are fifteen (15) full scholarships available among all students in our service area.

Scholarship awards may be applied toward tuition costs of any of the healthcare programs offered by PCI Health Training Center: Medical Assistant, Medical Office Assistant, Patient Care Technician, or Psychiatric Assistant. Visit our Financial Aid Department for complete details.

To be considered for one of these scholarships, the student must:

- be an American Citizen or an Eligible Non-Citizen.
- complete this application front and back.
- sign the authorization and certification on back (parental signature also required if under 18).
- attach two letters of recommendation (see other side for description).
- attach personal essay (see other side for description).
- attend a personal interview with a PCI Admissions Representative.
- complete all of the above and submit application by the deadline given.

Scholarship applicants will be notified in writing of their award status after the Scholarship Committee has selected winners.
